ARE YOU A #GOLDILOCKS - ANSWERS

1 - b. We always need to check before we post anything online that the person we're posting about doesn't mind us sharing their information or picture. Even though you might not mind if somebody shared the same information about you, we need to respect what other people are happy with.

2 - d. Once a photo is online, it can be seen by everybody! That's why we have to think really carefully about what we post and whether we mind it being seen by everyone. If you're not sure, it's probably best not to.

3 - b. If you post something online which you shouldn't have, delete it and then tell your mum, dad or teacher. They'll be able to help you and tell you if there's anything else you should do.

4 - b. We should always consider other people's feelings when we post online, no matter how upset we are. If somebody is upsetting you, it's best to talk to a responsible adult instead of posting online.

5 - b. It's always best to speak to a responsible adult if somebody is upsetting you online. They will be able to help you feel better and deal with the situation in the best way.
